

Based in Chicago, IL

Jeremy Kahn // Senior Front End Engineer

github.com/jeremyckahn

Email: jeremyckahn@gmail.com

Phone: 847-347-8086

// Skills

JavaScript, CSS3, HTML5, React, jQuery, Backbone, TDD, mentoring.

// Education

Columbia College Chicago, 2006-2009. BA in Game Development.

// Experience

2013 - Current: Jellyvision — Tech Lead

Designed, built, and maintained core JavaScript web applications and frameworks. Mentored Junior engineers.

2011 - 2013: YouTube — Web Developer

Maintained YouTube's front end. Added user-facing features to the Live interface.

2011: VSA Partners — Senior Developer

Built microsites and maintained brand identity sites for clients.

2010 - 2011: Jupiter IT — Senior Developer

Improved and maintained client-side web applications for external clients.

2010: Venturality, Inc. — Developer

Built full-stack PHP and JavaScript web applications for external clients.

2009 - 2010: OgilvyOne — Freelance Developer

Built ASP.NET applications for external clients.

2009: Luminair Film Productions, Inc. — Web Developer (Intern)

Updated the UI for company website.

2008 - 2009: Columbia College Chicago — Programming Tutor

Helped students with miscellaneous C++/C# challenges.

// Open source side projects

Style: <https://jeremyckahn.github.io/style/>
A CSS 3 animation generator.

Mantra: <https://jeremyckahn.github.io/mantra/>
A timeline interface for editing web animations.

Shifty: <https://jeremyckahn.github.io/shifty/doc/>
A tweening engine built in JavaScript.

Rekapi: <https://jeremyckahn.github.io/rekapi/doc/>
A keyframe animation engine built in JavaScript.

// Speaking

HTML5DevConf (late 2012): JavaScript Libraries: Choose to Reuse!
Discussed strategies for writing maintainable JavaScript libraries.
(http://files.jeremyckahn.com/html5devconf/libraries_choose_to_reuse.pdf)

HTML5DevConf (early 2012): 0-60: Animating the Web
Described web animation standards and patterns.
(<http://files.jeremyckahn.com/html5devconf/0-60.pdf>)